

Your Home: It's All Built on Chemistry

- Learn how Chemistry has changed construction
- Discover science as a career!
- Discuss how we protect our personal space!
- Have a good time learning and participating

The Public is invited to Chemistry Day:

Saturday 28 October 2006, 9:30 am to 3 pm

Campus of Columbia College, 623 South Wabash Avenue

CTA Accessible. Walk East from Harrison Red Line Stop

Parking: Hunter Parking – Corner of Wabash & Balbo

(Say - "Chemistry Day" to get discount)

Fun and Learning all day for All Ages!

Contests and Hands-on Fun for Kids whatever their ages. 9:30 - 2:00
Chemistry Demonstrations: 10:00 - 2:00
Industry, Academia, and Government Agency Exhibits
Poetry & Poster Making Contests
Pre-registered Boy Scouts can earn the Chemistry Merit Badge!

Featured Presentations**

9:30 The Science of Building with Urethanes

Dr. Laura Schreiner
Stepan Company

10:30 The Chemistry Behind the Products You Buy

Dr. Bruce Solka
Unilever Company

11:30 Exciting Chemical Demonstrations —

Chemistry in the Home

Dr. Irene Cesa
Flinn Scientific

12:30 Green Chemistry in the Home

Dr. Mary Kirchhoff
American Chemical Society

2:00 "CFC's – A Dance"

Mrs. Heidi Renteria
Stairway of the Stars
Dance Studio

2:30 Grand Chemistry Finale

<http://membership.acs.org/c/chicago/ChemDay/chemday06.html>

Students & Mike Heinz
Questions? Phone 847-647-8405
Sponsored by the Chicago ACS
Section and Columbia College

Wheelchair accessible

ACS Nationalwebinfo: http://www.chemistry.org/portal/a/c/s/1/acsdisplay.html?DOC=ncw%5Cncw_index.html

Directions: Columbia College is accessible by car from Lake Shore Drive turning west on Congress (I-290) or, perhaps better, on Balbo and continuing in a westerly direction to Wabash. There are parking garages (Hunter Parking on Balbo and Wabash, see above), underground parking for Grant Park, and street meter parking on Wabash and Columbus Drive.

Columbia College is also accessible by car from the Kennedy, the Eisenhower, and the Dan Ryan Expressways by heading East on the Eisenhower (Congress St.) and then turning south on Wabash to unload or park.

It is one block east from the Harrison stop on the CTA Red Line.

Sponsored by: American Chemical Society (ACS), Chicago Section,

Phone: (847) 647-8405

&

Columbia College, Chicago

Wheelchair accessible 